ENGLAND SEEKS TO GET MINERS IN CONFERENCE

Little Prospect, However, of Success Before Miners' Meeting Friday.

Nation Faces Serious Coal Shortage as Result of Closed Mines.

London, April 18.—Governmental authorities were anxious today to reopen negotiations between the miners and the owners of collieries throughout the United Kingdom with the hope of bringing about a permanent settlement of the wage question which caused the strike of miners on April 1, and came near involving Great Britain last week in an epochal industrial crisis.

There seemed little probability, however, that the miners' federation of Great Britain would take any steps to meet government officials or mine owners before next Friday, when representatives of British miners will confer on the situation in this city. In the meantime Great Britain is facing a serious coal shortage and every effort is being made to eke out present stocks until some adjustment of the situation can be made.

Beginning today train services were curtailed, and steps taken to bring to the people a realization that the coal shortage was really serious.

A mass meeting of the members of the coal porters union was held in Canningtown, a suburb of London yesterday and resolutions were adopted, stating that in view of the importation of American and German coal, the union would refuse from tomorrow to bunker any full loads, and also would decline to transport imported coal. The first decision was taken because since the beginning of the coal strike vessels have been bunkered only for outward voyages, taking in foreign coal for their return trips.

The meeting adopted resolutions of sympathy for the miners but it is noteworthy in this connection that the coal porters belong to the National Union of Dock Laborers, the secretary of which, James Sexton, member of parliament, ridiculed in an interview yesterday talk about the miners having been "betrayed."

He declared the dock laborers had been ready to support the miners, but that after the government yesterday adopted the suggestions of Frank Hodges, secretary of the miners' union, which the miners delegates later rejected, there was no longer any basis upon which the dock workers could continue their support.

A meeting of the parliamentary labor committee and the trades union congress will be held on Wednesday, and it is believed that at this gathering some program may be formulated for presentation at next Friday's conference of miners. The parliamentary labor committee has in the past been serviceable as an intermediary in labor disputes, its only failure to function occurring during the crisis last week. This failure, however, is understood to have resulted from the reluctance of some of the most influential members of the committee to do anything which might identify the principal army of the labor movement with the general strike policy.

POLITICIANS ARE INTERESTED OVER DAVIS' CABINET

Eight Fat Jobs Created By Republican Ripper Bill Draws Longing Eyes of Job-Hunters.

Columbus, April 18.—With prospect of the state government reorganization bill becoming a law, this week, by the house giving its concurrence to a few minor amendments made by the senate yesterday, much interest is developing in the probable selections the chief executive will make for the eight directorships or "cabinet" positions created by the measure.

The possibility that a court action may be started to nullify the emergency feature so the measure could be submitted to a referendum, does not appear materially to abate the discussion of who probably will receive the coveted appointments. The reorganization bill, unless it is held up in the courts, will become effective July 1, this year. The eight directors to be appointed by the governor are finance, public works, welfare, agriculture, industrial relations, commerce, public health and education. While it is said Governor Davis' mind still is open on selections for these positions and that none have yet been definitely agreed upon, it is known that certain persons are being given serious consideration and that only their possible declaration of the positions or last minute developments, may alter the governor's course in naming them.

REGULATION BY U. S. MIGHT SOLVE LABOR PROBLEM

Steel Corporation Head Favors Laws Controlling Labor and Capital.

Believes Complete Unionization of Industry Means Industrial Decay.

New York, April 18.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, told the stockholders at their annual meeting today he was in favor of publicity, regulation and reasonable control of business through government agencies as a possible "solution or antidote to the labor union problem."

Declaring he did not believe in socialism, nor in governmental management or operation, he suggested that non-partisan, non-sectarian commissions or departments render decisions subject to review by the highest courts. Continuing his suggestion, he said, laws—clear, well defined, practicable and easy of comprehension—covering these matters, might be passed and if so they should apply to all economic organizations, groups or bodies exceeding certain specified numbers or amounts. Both organized capital and organized labor should be placed under these laws. Each should be entitled to the same protection and be subject to the same restrictions and provisions. "Will labor unions consent to this? They have heretofore objected. Here would be a test. Labor union leaders have before now asked and received discriminatory exemptions. This is wrong and it would be just as bad if the situation were reversed. Employers generally desire only the same treatment that is accorded to labor unions. The large majority of workmen also would be satisfied with this standard."

Mr. Gary devoted a considerable portion of his address to labor unions and said "the natural and certain effects of labor unionism are expressed by three words, 'inefficiency, high costs.' I would not intentionally do an injustice to any union leader nor to a labor union," he continued, "but I firmly believe complete unionization of the industry of this country would be the beginning of industrial decay."

"It seems to me," he said, "that the natural, if not the necessary result of the contemplated progress of labor unionism is the complete abolishment of the shop, the place of the general management of the business that of capital and finally the government."

Admitting that unions "may have been justified in the long past" because workers were not being paid justly, he declared there is no "no necessity" for labor unions, "in the opinion of the large majority of both employers and employees."

Turning to the subject of possible reduction of working hours for employees of the steel corporation, Mr. Gary said:

"The officers of this corporation, the presidents of subsidiary companies and a majority of others in positions of responsibility, are in favor of abolishing the twelve hour day, and for this reason, and because of public sentiment, it is our endeavor and expectation to decrease the working hours—we hope in the comparatively near future."

Concerning the corporation's dealing with its employees he said: "Adverse even harsh criticisms have sometimes been made, but in this connection it is noticeable that these criticisms have generally originated with or been supported by ill-advised or malicious outsiders and not by the workmen themselves."

He said the corporation had been "very successful in cultivating the feeling of amity among the employees." He said the employees on the contrary "have received as high as the highest compensation, and as generous, if not the most generous treatment accorded by any basic industry at any period in this or any other country."

AMERICAN SEALS IN HANDS OF REDS

SENATE STILL DEBATES TREATY

Colombian Pact Occupies Attention of Senate Immigration Bill Is on House Callendar.

Washington, April 18.—With the Colombian treaty debate still occupying the senate, the house was prepared today to take up the immigration restriction bill as its principal business for the second week of the extra session. The immigration committee was ready to report the bill, which leaders plan to put through before the conclusion of the week in the same firm as vetoed by President Wilson.

The emergency tariff bill, passed by the house last week began its course in the senate today with the opening of limited hearings before the finance committee on certain provisions of the bill on the American valuation section. Chairman Penrose stated that the measure probably would not be reported out before late in the week, although it is hoped to press it to final action the end of next week.

This program may involve displacement of the Knox peace resolution which the foreign relations committee will take up Wednesday with plans for an immediate report. Debate on the resolution is scheduled to follow disposal of the Colombian treaty which under agreement comes to a vote Wednesday. With the house planning to take up the army and navy budget after disposing of the immigration bill, Secretary Weeks was prepared to transmit to the appropriation committee estimates for an army of 175,000.

VENEZUELA GIVES STATUE TO CITY

New York, April 18.—Members of the special mission from Venezuela here for the purpose of presenting to the city of New York an equestrian statue of General Simon Bolivar, "Liberator of South America," were guests of Mayor Hylan and the board of alderman today. Colonel Rodman Wanamaker and Grover A. IRISH FRIENDS IN CONVENTION

Make Appeal For Recognition of Irish Republic—Will Ask Loan of Hundred Million.

Chicago, April 18.—Irish sympathizers from all sections of the country were here today for the opening of the first national convention of the American Association of Recognition of the Irish Republic. Leaders in the movement to gain American recognition of Ireland were on the programme of the two day assemblage. Committee reports and election of officers were to constitute the chief business of the meeting.

Today's session opened with invocation by a representative of Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago, followed by a welcoming address by Mayor Thompson. Speakers on the program included Harry J. Boland, assistant to Emmet DeValera, Irish "president," Representative O'Connor of Louisiana and Mason of Illinois; Frank P. Walsh, counsel for the association; Daniel O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork; Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton prison, was on tonight's program.

The question of American recognition of Ireland is of vital importance to the peoples of both countries," Mr. Boland told the convention in his plea of the support of all liberty loving men.

"We seek for Ireland," he said, "the application of these noble principles for which you fought the war. We support so that the age-long struggle may be consummated in the recognition of Ireland by the United States. We look to you for help. This struggle has resolved into a question of money. We will come to you again for a new loan for the republic. This convention must resolve today so to organize the association that when the call comes you will be prepared to supply one hundred million dollars should Ireland ask it in the name of liberty."

"An effort is being made in America to create the impression that Ireland is unreasonable in her demands. Ireland insists in only one right—the right of the Irish people to determine for themselves how they shall be governed. This is all Ireland asks—and this and a peace with honor."

ARREST 600 FOR LIQUOR VIOLATION

Ten Days of Activity By New York Police Results In Many Arrests.

New York, April 18.—Ten days of police activity in enforcement of the new state prohibition laws have resulted in more than six hundred arrests in Manhattan, or enough, if each prisoner indicted and given trial by jury, to occupy the court of general sessions for two years, Chief Assistant District Attorney Banton declared today.

The court general sessions before which, under the state prohibition law, all indicted persons must be given trial, normally handles only three hundred jury cases a year, Mr. Banton said. The assistant district attorney also announced plans for organization of a bureau of volunteer lawyers to enforce the civil sections of the new laws. In this connection he said injunctions would be sought against the sale of liquors in all places where proof of sale has been obtained.

"Such injunctions being issued," he added, "it becomes contempt of court to violate them. There are also the social status and cases, in which the state is plaintiff and all persons who are indicted liquor of the defendants."

Hence these barrels and bottles each must have its day in court and owners may attempt to prove rightful possession against the courts claim that they were possessed in violation of the laws.

JAPAN SAYS U. S. MUST PROVE CASE IN YAP DISPUTE

Note Tells U. S. Alleged Reservation Must Have Had Approval.

Hughes Tells 'Em No One Was Authorized to Surrender U. S. Rights.

Washington, April 18.—To maintain its position with regard to the Pacific island of Yap, the American government would have to prove not merely the fact "that President Wilson made reservations concerning it, but also that the supreme council, decided in favor of those views," the Japanese government says in a note under date of last Friday night, made public today by the state department along with the other correspondence between the governments regarding Yap.

"It must also be remembered" Japan says "that if a decision in favor of the exclusion of the island of Yap—a question of grave concern to Japan and one on which the Japanese delegation invariably maintained a firm attitude—had really been made, as it is complied with by the argument of the United States government at the meeting of the supreme council May 7, 1919, at which Japan was not represented, it could not but have been regarded as an act of entirely bad faith."

It was to this note that Secretary Hughes replied last April 5 at the same time sending similar notes to the governments of Great Britain, France and Italy. He declared that the United States was unable to agree with Japan's contention that in order to maintain its position it would have to prove "not only that President Wilson made reservations regarding Yap, but also that the supreme council adopted those views."

"As no treaty has ever been concluded with the United States relating to the island of Yap," Hughes added, "and as no one has ever been authorized to cede or surrender the right or interest of the United States in the island, this government must insist that it had not lost its rights or interest as it existed prior to any action of the supreme council or of the League of Nations, and cannot recognize the allocation of the island or the validity of the mandate to Japan."

Japan has not as yet replied to this communication, so the correspondence consists of the two notes quoted above, another formal note sent by Acting Secretary Davis last December 6, by direction of President Wilson and two memoranda with which the executive branch was instructed last November after some question had arisen at the meetings here of the international communications conference concerning the action of the supreme council with regard to the island of Yap.

Mr. Memoranda of November 4, the secretary of state said, it "was the clear understanding" of the American government that the supreme council at the previous request of President Wilson had reserved for future consideration the question of disposition of the island in the hope that some agreement might be reached to place it under international control and thus render it available as an international cable station.

The Japanese foreign office replied in a memorandum under date of November 19, that it was "the definite understanding" of the Japanese government that the supreme council on May 7, came to a final decision to place under mandate to Japan all the former German islands north of the equator that the decision involved "no reservations whatever in regard to the islands of Yap and that, therefore, the Japanese government 'would not be able to consent to any proposition which reversing the decision of the supreme council, would exclude the island of Yap from the territory committed to their charge.'"

In response to this memorandum Acting Secretary Davis dispatched a formal note to Tokyo, stating that the American government could not agree that Yap was included in the decision of the supreme council of May 7, 1919, as claimed, and that the Japanese demand that the island has been included in the mandate "all other powers should have free access to the island for the landing and operation of cables."

The Japanese reply on February 26 said that on the basis of the American government's position and cables were put forth irrespective of the fact that the island was within the mandate territory," then he questioned seems to be one which should be freely settled by the nation which has charge of the place, namely Japan."

BRITISH READY TO ENFORCE PARIS PACT

London, April 18.—Reports of drastic action contemplated by the allies against Germany, to be taken May 1, were characterized in British official circles today as highly speculative and hypothetical.

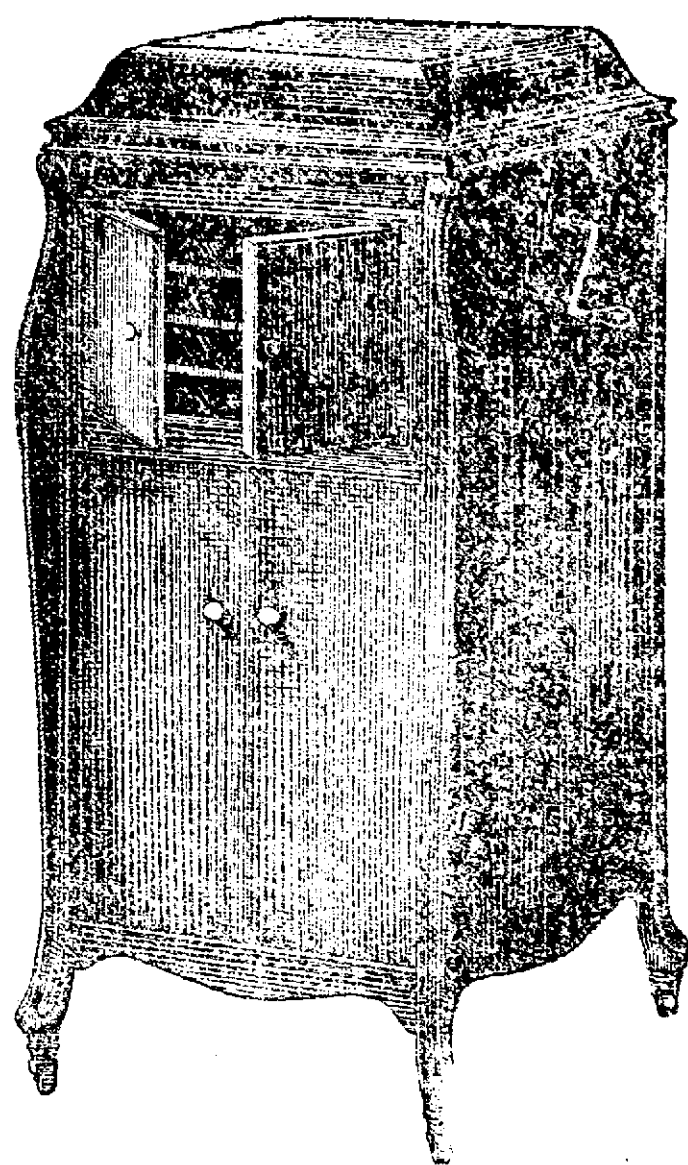

These reports, it was pointed out, were based on the assumption that Germany neither intends to pay adequate reparations or to offer a new and acceptable solution for the reparations problem, and British officials are declining as yet to concur in any such assumption.

However, should Germany not offer a solution before May 1, the British, will, it was stated, consider that she is deliberately blocking the treaty and the British will act wholeheartedly with France in any action necessary to force the treaty.

POLICE HOLD MAN FOR PASSING WORTHLESS CHECK

A check worth under the names of J. P. Halloway, C. H. Long and C. A. Long victimized local merchants here Saturday by attempting to pass worthless checks on the Muller grocery company, Halloway's, Depp's meat market, the Star grocery and Gene Wolinsky meat dealer. Wolinsky cashed a check for $21.20 in exchange for three pounds of cheese. A check for $41 was presented at Muller's by the man who was caught by the police in Osburn's Feed store but the grocery refused to cash it. The same check was also presented at the Auto Electric Supply company and was refused there. The man asked for two spark plugs which were given him on credit instead of cashing the check.

He was apprehended when H. R. Shaw, of the Muller store, followed him in his rounds, after notifying police headquarters.

FEAR INTERVENTION BY UNITED STATES

Mexico City.—The fear of United States intervention which is always apparent in Mexico was illustrated recently when an imaginative correspondent in Vera Cruz addressed his Mexico City newspaper that "a fleet of American vessels, most of them cruisers, formidably armed, has just anchored off this port."

The correspondent added that at the time his dispatch was filed it was too dark to identify the vessels definitely but that "the entire city of Vera Cruz is in a frenzy of excitement over this entrance of United States warships into our waters."

It was later discovered, however, that the much feared armada consisted of six small boats recently purchased by the Mexican government from Great Britain for merchant marine service.

"ONE MAN" CARS ARE INVESTIGATED

State Utilities Commission Sends Two Inspectors to Newark to Look Over Conditions.

Chief Inspector Smith, and Inspector Harry Evans of the State Public Utilities commission in company with Superintendent Floyd Clinis of the Ohio Electric are in the city today inspecting the cars.

The inspection is being made following a complaint made to the commission on the use of the "locked back door" of the city and Granville cars since the installing of the "one man crew" on the cars. The inspection is being made according to information obtained from the state headquarters, to learn if some provision cannot be made so the back door may be left unlocked or unlocked quickly by the motorman in case of accident.

SCOTLAND YARD IS USING WOMEN NOW

London.—Conservative Scotland Yard is finding women of decided value on its detective force, especially in ferreting out the intricacies of certain sorts of crime. The talent of these feminine sleuths, it is said, is due largely because of their greater success at practicing deception. And it has been found that they can keep a secret.

Many of the women detectives cover assignments at social events where it is necessary for them to wear evening gowns and jewels and to display the social graces.

Women detectives were employed first in London, but now their activities have extended to the provinces.

MISS NELSON'S LAST SEASON IN LYCEUM WORK

It has been some years since the Y. M. C. A. has attempted to present any professional entertainment to the public from its own auditorium, Taylor Hall. The event of this week in the coming of Miss Hortense Neilson was an opportunity not to be overlooked. The open date in her itinerary would undoubtedly have been given the university at Granville had it not been for the date already being taken by the annual play of the school.

Miss Neilson, who is abandoning the platform in favor of the stage, which field she left for Chautauqua and Lyceum work some five years ago, is now on the last lap of her final tour under lyceum management. Her present season will close the latter part of June. She will devote the better part of the summer months to the preparation of her company which she will take on the road next season in conjunction with two Shakespearean productions. It will have no more than five years since Miss Neilson has appeared from behind the footlights and it is with a sense of eagerness that she leaves her present field of approach to the American public, the platform.

Miss Neilson is a dramatic artist of both the stage and the platform and her presentation for Saturday's occasion will be John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," a play that has carried its clamor call to tens of thousands here in our own country as well as the British Empire. During the past season Miss Neilson has given this play in the auditoriums of more than three hundred universities and colleges.

Tickets may be secured at Leist & Kingery, Edgemoor or at the Y. M. C. A.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

KNIVES OF STONE OPERATING TOOLS

Of 1200 Skulls Collected In Bolivia Five Per Cent
Have Been Operated.

New York, April 18.—Prehistoric Indians of South America had crude medicine men who removed splinters of arrow-heads and stone slivers from wounded warriors by cutting through the skull with knives of stone or obsidian and other simple instruments wrought from copper and bronze. Sometimes the patient lived; frequently he went to the happy hunting grounds.

These uncomfortable treatments of serious casualties from tribal skirmishes still continue in remote areas of Bolivia. Evidence of this has been gathered by field workers from the American Museum of Natural History. Of nearly 1,200 skulls collected in South America by the late Dr. Adolph Bandelier for exhibition in the museum, about five percent have been operated upon. To surgeons the practice is known as trephining. It consists of removing a disk or button of bone from the skull with a saw called a trephine. Complex fracture of the skull with depression of the bony plates must have been common occurrences during the ancient tribal wars when clubs headed with stone and copper along with slings, the "bol" and the "huist" were offensive weapons, said the reports of the museum's investigators.

A natural procedure, they opined, with victims who survived skull fractures must have been attempts to remove the splinters of bone that pricked the brain, or to cut out fragments pressing upon it.

Warlike clans fight intermittently even today in the wilds of Bolivia and skull fractures are common. Other heads are perforated now and then in the bacchanals and festivals whooped up occasionally with great quantities of intoxicants, the investigators reported. When the laughter and the free-for-all quiet down, the medicine men get out their pocket knives and made incisions into the injured skulls of the sufferers, frequently covering the aperture with gourd. During the operation they scrape around the wound with achises.

Modern anesthetics are unknown to the medicine men. They put their patient into insensibility by constant use of the "coca" plant. This also is employed for healing purposes, and is commonly applied to wounds, bruises and contusions.

STAR FRANCES WHITE

IS PIN-UP BODY.
"An artist," said Frances White, coming to the Auditorium soon and more serious than you might think, to see her on the steps, "has no right at all to be purse-proud about talent, any more than a millionaire has the right to be proud of his money. Both may have inherited their good gifts or fortune or may have won them by hard labor. But it's the same in any case. I can't stand people who show off their wealth, any more than I can have patience with the person who has long hair and silly eyes who sits around and talks of the struggle and prerogatives of genius."

She wears her hair combed fast and hard against the head just as she wears it on the stage when she sings, "M-L-double-S-I-double-P" in her baby clothes and panties. Also her "Monkey-in-the-Zoo" song, while one admirer liked so much that he sent Miss White a monkey "Way off in South America."

"The monkey is about one by two and a half," she said, "and I'll admit that he made a great hit. Rather inconvenient at home, because he gets into everything. But I like him just the same."

"Are you considering marriage?" asked the interviewer.

"Not a single bit," said Miss Frances White. "It's not time to grow up yet. I like to feel the way my audience like to see me look, and I believe you say 'good by' to happy childhood when sign the contract."

"Life's hard enough anyway," she grinned, "trying to please my audience."

"It seems to come easy," said the interviewer.

"In a way, yes," she replied. "I've never known stage fright—knock on wood—and Alan Dalo pleased me enormously full three years ago when I certainly was young, by saying that I had from the beginning poise and stage presence."

"SLAVE OF VANITY" IS A STRONG DRAMA

"A smashing good story is told in "A Slave of Vanity," the Robertson-Cole super-special photo-play starring Pauline Frederick which opened at the Grand theater today for a run of three days. The picture is a screen version of the brilliant drama, "Iris" which was written several years ago by the famous author and playwright Sir Arthur Wing Pinero and produced in both America and England. It is admitted by critics that this film gives Miss Frederick the best opportunity of her career to show her ability as an emotional actress.

The story is dramatic with its full share of pathos and comedy relief. Miss Frederick plays the role of Iris Bellamy, a young widow whose husband stipulated in his will that she would lose every bequest he made if she remarried.

She is in love with Laurence Trenwith, a poor man. Her fortune has been swept away during the absence of Trenwith who has gone out to make

LAW 600 YEARS OLD INVOKED FOR MOONEY

San Francisco, April 18.—A little known common law process said to date from 1337 and never before brought forward in California, was invoked here Saturday in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney, now serving a life sentence for the preparedness day explosion in which 10 lives were lost.

The process, known as "audita querela," is said to have originated through the desire of King Edward the Third of England to gain the release of an imprisoned bishop. It is applicable in cases where in all statute law remedies have been exhausted and judgment has been pronounced, attorneys declared and its effect is to obtain a new trial of a cancellation of sentence already imposed.

Byron C. Parker filed the writ at the behest of the Central Labor Council of San Francisco. He said he hoped through it to obtain a new trial for Mooney at which he declared important new evidence would be brought forward.

Under California statute law no new evidence can be presented in connection with Mooney's conviction because the case has been closed. Hearing on the writ was set for May 25.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

The doubter who questions the value of advertising will find an infinity of proof of its effectiveness, if he will study business history. For instance:—
An Atlanta soft drink concern increased its assets $1,370,000 last year by advertising. It originally had only $50,000 capital.
An automobile corporation reports increased sales of $13,000,000 last year, due to advertising.
A cereal company reports a gain in gross earnings of $1,356,972, in two years, due to advertising.
A food producing company which reduced its advertising last year, shows profits dropped 40 per cent.
Human nature is just the same in all its relations, whether in the purchase made of these great concerns, or in those made of the ordinary retail store. If the big concern can get people to send across the country to buy its product, known only to them through publicity work, surely any store in Newark can go on to much larger sales by telling its home folks and its neighbors what it has to offer.

BUSINESS COMMUNITY AND WAR.

The socialists who lay all the troubles of the human race on employers of labor, and on those who have acquired wealth, claim that the capitalists create wars. They say that men of wealth promote armed conflict, because it creates high prices and a demand for their goods.
Business men fear war above all others. Wars tend to unsettle confidence, to create business panics, to bring about commercial failures. They involve heavy taxation in which the accumulations of capital are hit very hard.
The business community is proverbially timid in its fear of change. War is the most changeful thing that human passion ever introduced on this planet. Business suffers from war because war impoverishes the people, and business thrives only when the people are prosperous. The socialists should invent some new fairy tale, as this one is played out.

FACTORY GARDENS.

Employees of the Frick Coke company of Connellsville, Penna., last year raised $320,000 in garden stuff. The company furnishes the garden plots with each of the houses occupied by its workers, and in addition leased 354 plots to employees. There were 7954 individual families engaged in this enterprise.
It cost the company a little less than $20,000 to promote this plan. It must have paid many times over, in the better physical condition and contentment of the workers. The man who is hoeing in his garden is going to reduce much the cost of his living, and his mind is occupied otherwise than in listening to the false philosophy of agitators.
Community welfare would be promoted here in Newark if manufacturing firms could do something to encourage their help to do gardening.

CLEAN-UP DRIVES.

Most people have the sight of disorder in their home city, but it takes a little effort to arouse feeling for a general campaign of improvement. During recent years Clean Up Week campaigns have been wonderfully successful. The following program for such a drive is suggested:
Sunday—Reference to campaign in the churches.
Monday—Fire prevention day. Get rid of all dangerous rubbish.
Tuesday—Front yard day. Cut lawn, trim edges, plant flowers, etc. Business houses clean windows and replace old awnings.
Wednesday—Weed day. Rid lawns of weeds and trim bushes and gardens.
Thursday—Paint day. Paint up porches, fences, porch chairs and sheds.
Friday—Back yard day. Clean up everything in rear of house.
Saturday—Vacant lot day. School should send out children to remove old papers and tin cans from vacant lots.
These things should be attended to by all the people of Newark and it arouses interest to make one big drive at one time. For several years "Clean up Week" was an event in Newark. Never did the streets and alleys and yards need more attention than they do today.

The city of Philadelphia has given a magnificent example of a clean-up drive. The work was considered so important that a citizen's committee, with 12 sub-committees, was formed to plan the movement down to minute detail. Publicity was used in the newspapers, movie theaters, on posters, etc., and instructions were distributed. It was made clear just what was to be done with rubbish, and everyone was urged to do his share on his home place.
By this means enthusiasm was aroused, and no one liked to show unwillingness to do his part. The result was a marvellous improvement. Any city that would carry out such a plan would be a fine illustration of Spottsylvania. Cleanliness goes farther to make a city look alive than spending money on fine buildings. Why not revive the custom of a few years ago give Newark a thorough house cleaning this spring?

President Harding has greeted personally 50,000 people since his inauguration, but so far no one has moved a vote of thanks to these people for occupying the President's valuable time.
The kids deny that they are not interested in historical subjects, as they play the oldest game in the world, which is marbles.
If the Huns hadn't been preparing for war for 40 years, they would not have to be repairing damage for 40 years more.

G. O. P. DISAPPOINTMENT.

(Philadelphia Record)
Of course, President Harding's message to congress, especially that portion of it concerning the peace treaty and the relation which the country should bear to other nations, is loudly acclaimed by Republicans in Washington. That is always the way with a new administration. The people as a whole are inclined to regard its performances with a lenient eye, and its partisans sound its praises loudly. To the extent, however, that the course of the president is largely withstanding the removal of federal patronage until he learns the attitude which Republican Senators are likely to take toward his policies has had its natural effect, in bringing into line the conservatives, and reservationists and pro Leaguers, all of whom are on their good behavior until the dough-bag has been opened.
No such compulsion, however, rests upon Republican newspapers that do their own thinking. They are not pleased with the President's vagueness as to what he proposed to do toward substituting some workable plan for the peace treaty and the League of Nations. They would like some practical suggestions, but find only platitudinous generalities. As the New York Tribune puts it, "he is definite as to the objectives to be sought, but indefinite, except in a negative way, as to the exact method of attaining them." After an effort to ascertain just what Mr. Harding has in mind, it expresses disappointment guardedly as follows:
But the hope will may be expressed that the President will not become so enmeshed in problems of general right as to lose sight of realities. It is not easy to see how peace can be assured without some sort of political alliance. This is a practical political question, and no matter how excellent, it is likely to touch it.
The Philadelphia Public Ledger (Republican) is much more outspoken in the expression of its disapproval. After pointing out the failure of Mr. Harding to make any concrete suggestions for carrying out the treaty of peace, in case the League of Nations shall be rejected, it comes to this conclusion:
So far as it has been disclosed, the foreign policy of the Harding Administration is woefully incomplete. It is a negative rather than a positive policy as it is outlined in the message. The "world association" is a vague and formless thing. There is no outline of how we shall go about taking what we want from the treaty of peace and ignoring the League's enforcing machinery. We do not know what we are to ratify the treaty by resolutions or to make separate commitments or agreements.
In a general way, the first Harding message is not a strong statement, its assertions and recommendations are hedged about with too many reservations. Even when he is dealing with those subjects upon which he is known to feel and to think most strongly, the Harding caution does not desert the President. There is a disposition to go softly on most matters and to deal with the practical and the material. The idealism to which the nation had become accustomed in its state papers is missing from the Harding message.

Could anything be more convincing than the open, honest statement of a man right here at home? This tells exactly what Dreco has already done and what others may expect by taking Dreco the great herb remedy.
"I'm better than I've been for four years and two bottles of Dreco is what brought about the change," stated Mr. Alden Hyatt of 29 Weant Avenue, Newark, Ohio.
"I suffered from gas in my stomach, constipation, sluggish liver, nervousness and heartburn. My troubles kept me from sleeping sound and I'd wake next morning feeling tired and drowsy and not fit for work.
"I could feel myself getting better, gradually day by day. After I began taking Dreco, my bowels became active and regular, the dizzy spells ceased, my food no longer became sour in my stomach so that put a stop to the gas and heartburn, and my nerves got steady so that my sleep was sound and refreshing. I've finished my second bottle of Dreco and feel better than I have in years. I can safely advise anyone who has these troubles to take Dreco for it will bring help them."

BORROWED HUSBANDS

By MILDRED K. BARBOUR
LXXXV.—Check!
It was Edith who inadvertently spoiled Nancy's plan for returning to New York on a later train than that taken by Dr. Langwell.
At breakfast the following morning the doctor carelessly announced: "I shall be taking a run to New York, for an operation on the president of the Trust Company. Will you see that my bag is sent down to the hospital in time for me to catch the Twentieth Century?"
"But, dear, if it's not urgent, why not wait over and go with Nancy?" said Edith quickly. "She insists on leaving for New York today, and she is going to take the Lakeshore so that she can attend Fleurette's funeral with me."
The doctor laid down his fork and surveyed Nancy deliberately. There was a peculiar little gleam in his eyes; it was partly amusement and partly anger. To Nancy, his glances seemed to say: "So, you thought you'd give me the slip, eh?"
Nancy was biting her lip in vexation. She wondered why she had been so stupid as to forget that Edith might inadvertently spoil her plans.
"O course," she amended hastily. "I may not leave at all today. It depends on Curtis and Connie. I want to go back to them as it bores me frightfully to travel alone."
"You're not particularly complementary to me," remarked the doctor. "I would be quite willing to stay over for a later train. This operation is not a matter of life and death."
"Oh, no, you mustn't let me inconvenience you," insisted Nancy. "I'll try to adjust my plans to Connie's. If I don't succeed, it won't matter terribly. I made the trip to Chicago alone."
She had a swift mental vision of that trip when she went eagerly to meet Gerry with hope high in her heart of several perfect days before he should leave for Peru. The only shadow on when he played the game openly across the boards with Edith as an audience. Breakfast progressed to silence. The doctor was buried in his paper; Edith ate her grape-fruit absently, her pose more listless than ever. She seemed like one utterly detached from the world, listlessly watching life pass by. Nancy herself was too angry to eat. Her resentment against the high-handed way the doctor was managing her affairs was almost beyond bounds. She realized now why Edith was like an automaton, moving when the master hand pulled the strings.

The maid came back from the telephone.
"Mrs. Stanley says that she will be glad to go to New York with Mrs. Burrard on the Lakeshore. She wishes to thank Dr. Langwell for having his secretary get reservations as Mr. Stanley is not well today."
Nancy looked at the doctor.
The self-satisfied complacent smile, which she loathed, played about his mouth.
"See you at the train at 5:30," he remarked as he arose and tossed aside his napkin. "We three should have a pleasant trip."

Milady's Boudoir

No one likes to have even a down of soft hair on their face and there are many women who are troubled with this. There are two kinds of hair, the soft, rather fine down and the stiff, scattering hairs that look dark and wiry. If the growth is not bad and only here and there on the face it is not necessary to worry. Just pull them out with a pair of tweezers. Try each time to pull them out by the root and not to break them off close and each time you will find that they grow out less and less. The roots are killed and if they are killed they will never appear again.

Women with dark hair are more apt to be troubled with superfluous hair than their lighter sisters. It is possible that a blonde may have as many but of course they do not show as badly. A depilatory may be used if the directions are carefully followed out. Many of these have arsenic in them and these should never be used. Of course using a depilatory will not kill the roots and the growth will come back stronger than ever.

A little peroxide may be put on the growing hairs and this causes them to grow light and so not show as much, and it does weaken the roots somewhat. A solution of part ammonia and pure alcohol may be used. This should be applied with a tiny eyebrow brush for several applications. Apply the solution an await five minutes before applying again. Then, without drying, apply strong peroxide with another brush. If the lip or parts effected seem to grow red or feel too harsh only application should be done at one time. Leave it for twenty hours and apply again. Or course the hair can be removed by electricity, but as the current has to be applied to each hair in order to kill the roots it is a slow and rather expensive to have done. Rubbing gently with a piece of pumice stone also helps to get rid of the objectional hairs.

Our Boys and Girls

If you live in the country and can get no ice in summer it is sometime difficult to arrange about the baby's milk if she takes it in a bottle. If you have no ice, as soon as you receive the milk, after straining it you should put it in sterilized glass bottles and put it in a spring or a brook of running water, or, if a brook is not near, sink it down in the well. The cooling process must be rapid.

Wire racks, or even a pail, may be used to hold the bottles but they must be so arranged that the cold water will extend as high as the milk is in the bottle, yet so it will not run or leak into the top of the bottle. It is the first rapid cooling of the milk that is most important. After it has stood in the water for an hour it may be used in whole milk formulas.

After the separate bottles for each meal have been prepared, the milk should be placed in the spring or brook for each meal. Keeping the bottled milk in the cellar covered with cloths wet with cold water or standing them in a strong draft is sometimes the method used.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HUNSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

WERE WITNESSES AGAINST MRS. STOKES AT SENSATIONAL DIVORCE TRIAL OFFERED COIN TO TESTIFY AGAINST WIFE?

That some witnesses against her at the sensational divorce trial of Stokes vs. Stokes, in New York city, were offered money to testify to her injury, is the contention of Mrs. Stokes. Her husband, W. E. D. Stokes, aged multi-millionaire, names eight men with whom he says she was too familiar. His main witness was Mrs. Genevieve De Aquinos, Martha Jones, a former servant in the home of a man named by Stokes as a co-respondent, testified that Mrs. De Aquinos offered her money to testify against Mrs. Stokes at the trial, but that she refused.

We relieved you of your sufferings. That we endure on earth, So his angel came down for him, And took him to the home of Mirth. After I have lost my darling Son, And my love for him I deeply feel, But it was our God and Master, And my sorrow he can heal.

I miss you from the home dear Son, Yes even by the vacant chair, And the home seems so lonely, For the smiling face is not there.

Ah he's asleep with Jesus, From which none ever wake and weeps, A calm and undisturbed repose unbroken By the Last of Foes. Mr. and Mrs. Michel Daugherty and Family. 4-18-31

COURT APPROVES ANNEXATION

Judge Wood, In Decision, Upholds Action of Council and Commissioners In Extending City's Lines East.

Action of the city council and county commissioners annexing territory in East Newark was proper, in the opinion of Judge C. H. Wood of Mt. Cleod who handed down his decision in common pleas court this morning in the suit brought by C. L. V. Holtz and others, to enjoin the action of the two bodies.

Judge Wood's decision dissolves the preliminary injunction, and dismissed the petition. He fixed the bond in case appeal is taken at $200.

The territory involved in the action includes an irregular strip of ground immediately east of present corporation line from the Pennsylvania railroad to the old canal bed in the rear of the Children's Home property.

The annexation of this territory will materially increase the population of the city.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO CONDUCT RETREAT

The Knights of Columbus will conduct a retreat at the Blessed Sacrament church beginning Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It will be for the members of the organization and the men of both Blessed Sacrament and St. Francis de Sales parishes.

The services will be conducted by Rev. Father Brockbank, a Dominican from Holy Trinity church at Somerset. There will be services every evening and mass and services every morning.

Even a new broom won't sweep clean unless it has some power behind it.

70 NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO CHURCH

Seventy additions to the church resulted from the evangelistic campaign conducted at the First M. E. church during the past two weeks by Dr. Hugh Birney. The campaign closed with the services last night when the evangelist expressed his appreciation for the cooperation received during the meetings. Included in the number of additions, are more than 25 young people who will receive instructions for six weeks before being received into full membership.

As a part of the instructions to the probation class, Rev. Ira G. McCormick will begin a series of talks Wednesday evening on "Paul's Letter to the Ephesians." His first talk will be on "The Origin of the Church."

W. W. Card, formerly cashier of the Park National Bank, Newark, now of Cleveland sends us a quantity of Safety Blades to sharpen and a dozen from a Cleveland business associate. In his letter he states that he gets genuine satisfactory service from every blade we sharpen and this is why he wants Teuscher to do it. This is only one of the many compliments we receive and demonstrates that our work speaks for itself. If you use a safety and the blades are dull give him a call. Quality Clothes Are Important These Days

Store Hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Buying coats and suits should be given serious thought. There is a lot to be careful about in addition to just surface appearance.

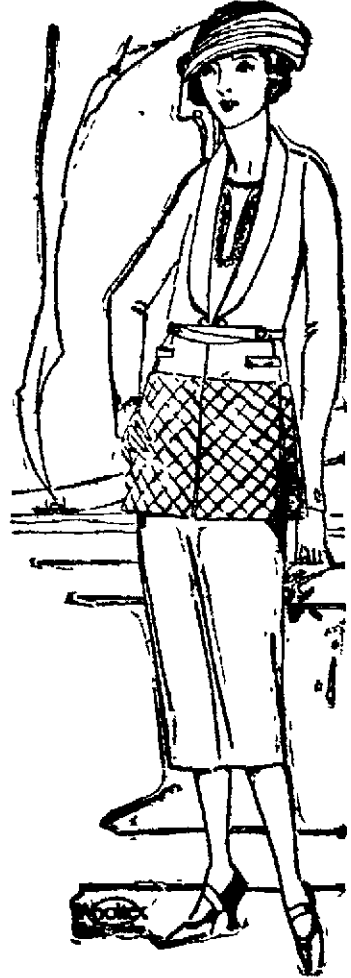

Fabrics should be pure wool—for the best service: tailoring should be of the very finest—to insure a garment against losing its shapeliness the price should be whatever you can afford.

We believe that every woman with these ideas in mind will like our showing of

Wooltex Suits and Coats

It contains a model for any occasion you may desire. There are the serviceable knockabouts—made of rough-and-ready fabrics—that have so many uses—for traveling—for motoring—for business or college wear—for all weather.

There are also many handsome models in both suits and coats—some plain tailored models, others elaborately trimmed, and suitable for dressy wear.

Betty Wales Dresses.

We are displaying an interesting array of Betty Wales frocks in silks for ladies, and also the newly introduced designs for juniors. Every Betty Wales dress has a touch of individuality out of it: there are unexpected bits of trimmings—quaint draperies, enrichments of embroidery.

This Week Will Be a Splendid Time to select your new silk dress. We have so many handsome models to offer, and the greatest satisfaction will be from having your new dress for wear on the first warm days.

MANY ATTRACTIVE SILK DRESSES NOW ON DISPLAY $35.00 TO $45.00.

Shown in all the pretty shades Fashion has approved for spring. Some elaborately embroidered—others beaded—others a combination of two fabrics.

Dainty White Wash Satin Petticoats $4.50.

Just what you will want for summer sport skirts or sheer summer dresses. Finished with scalloped, embroidered edge and dainty designs embroidered in white at the top of the flounce.

THE NEW WASH DRESSES HAVE MADE THEIR APPEARANCES

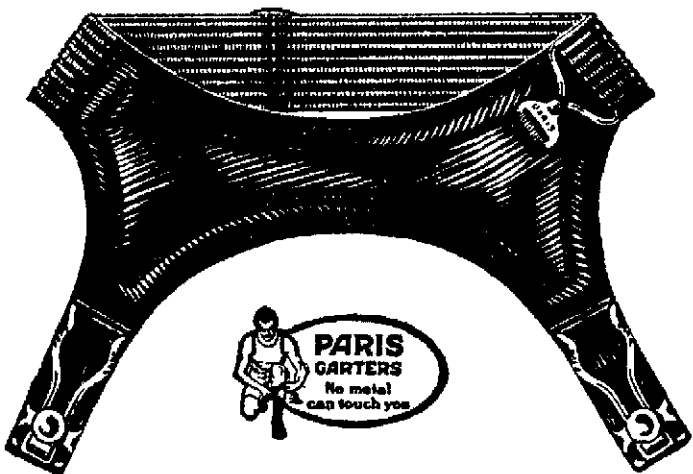

They are a succession of delights. Made of sheer organdies in bright colors—that will please everyone and the gingham never were so pretty, and they are made in such attractive models that you want to get a glimpse of them real soon.

BUT NOT IN QUALITY

BIRDS USE MORE SENSE THAN HUMANS

"If the young people of today showed as much sense as the birds do in mating there would be fewer divorcees," declared Rev. Arthur E. Cowley speaking on "The Discontented Birds" Sunday evening at the Second Baptist church. He continued, "The dove never marries the crow, the nightingale never marries the wood pecker, or the Bird of Paradise, the buzzard. Too many young nightingales are tied up to loafing parasites. If a girl can't marry her equal in morals she had better stay single."

Mr. Cowley said that the young men of America compel the young women to be respectable. "If a girl acts improperly," he declared, "she is dropped like a hot brick. Let a young man do as he pleases, he's nearly always welcomed in society and excused on the basis that he is sowing his wild oats."

"The truth is they are not wild oats but devil's grass and full of snakes. If the young women want to take the kinks and crooks out of the young men, let them set up a standard and maintain it."

Two splendid congregations greeted Mr. Cowley in starting the revival. The subject tonight is "Mind Your Own Business."

O. S. U. DRAMATIC CLUB MAY GIVE PLAY HERE

The Strollers dramatic society of the Ohio State University, which was seen here at the Auditorium in "Mutti," opened in Columbus last week with the production "The Girl With the Green Eyes" playing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

How Great A Value Has The American Dollar To You!!

Consider the Value of Dollar as 100 cents

Spend it promiscuously and without thought and it will bring you in return, possibly 100 cents worth, probably less.

Consider Its Value By Its Ability to Purchase

And spend it wisely, judiciously and in the proper place and its true value is greatly magnified, bringing as a return considerably more than its monetary valuation of 100 cents.
